Christy Taylor has a dedicated following in Grey and Bruce Counties. An established professional performer and teacher, Christy's courses establish an atmosphere where expansion of a child's expression can take place. In this energetic and creative teaching environment, she encourages students of all ages to explore the world around them, to express their own uniqueness and feelings of self-worth in a safe environment.

The fundamental goal of this course is to assist in the personal, cultural and social development of young people through the practice of theatre, empowering them to develop their own artistic voice under the mentorship of professional artists and educators.

This course usually sells out with a waiting list, so we encourage you to book early, on or before the deadline of March 9, 2015.
